WINNING NUMBERS IN THE BIG STANDARD CONTEST

Committee Selected by Large Audience Awards the Free Gifts—Twenty Tickets to Seattle and a Beautiful Piano—Examiner Subscribers Participate in the Event.

The award of the piano and twenty tickets to Seattle and return was witnessed last evening by more than 1,500 persons in front of the Standard office. The Standard management permitted the Examiner subscribers to participate in the contest, notwithstanding the fact that the Examiner had been leased to other people for a term of ten years. With last night's proceedings, the Standard turns over the Examiner subscription list in Ogden City to A. R. Bowman, who will be found at the old Journal office. The great meeting last night was called to order by Mr. Glasman, who requested the audience to select their own committee or judges to conduct the awarding of the gifts. After some hesitation the audience selected the following committee: Carl Rasmussen, Mrs. Annie Mills, J. H. Hill, W. L. Buswell, and C. P. Carlson. This committee at once proceeded to inspect the duplicate tickets and it was after 9 o'clock before the tickets were properly inspected and placed in a large barrel, when Mrs. Annie Mills was blindfolded and drew twenty-one numbers from the barrel. ## FORD GIVEN THE LIMIT OF LAW BIG FRUIT COMPANY

MAN WHO FORCED A WOMAN INTO THE ALLEY.

Then Attacked and Drenched Her in Blood—Other Charges to Be Brought Against Him.

"Well, Judge, I'd been drinking." With this pithy excuse upon his lips, George C. Ford, charged technically with vagrancy, sought to justify the cowardly attack which he made Saturday night upon a frail woman companion, Mrs. Lola Jeffers, who had just been taken away from her home and husband in San Pedro, California, and whom he was attempting to force to lead a life of shame in this city.

"This man," said the judge, "is charged with vagrancy, the extreme penalty for which, as provided for in the statutes, is a fine of $99 or a sentence of 99 days in jail, or both. In this case, the penalty is the latter, but I will give him the limit, 99 days in the county jail and a fine of $99."

No incident in the past year has attracted so much general attention in police circles as has the case of the brutal attack which this man Ford made upon the unfortunate victim of his wiles Saturday night, after he had forced her to rent and occupy a crib and, then becoming enraged because she had not made as much money as he wanted, struck her to the floor and kicked and beat her shamefully.

The woman in the case, frail of body and with her face still discolored and bruised by the fists of her seducer, was the sole witness against Ford in his story of the crime. The man in San Pedro, dining with him frequently, deserting her husband and child, and subsequently coming to Ogden, was told in detail. She told of $200 which she had taken with her on her last trip to the city, and of it paying the expenses of herself and Ford during their trip in which they visited Los Angeles, Winnemucca and Ogden.

The woman's blood-stained night robe was exhibited in court to substantiate her story, of the beating which Ford administered. She told of going to rent the crib after having been threatened by Ford, and also stated that the $150 which she gave him as her "earnings" was from the small sum which she yet retained.

The defendant, who is a comely-looking man of 38 or 40, and weighing something over 200 pounds, was called to the stand to state his defense.

He made a feeble effort to throw the blame upon the woman, claiming that he did not know she was married when he met her and that she had followed him about from one town to another, and finally had rented the crib of her own volition. He tried to explain the attack which he had made upon her by stating that he had been drinking and remembered nothing of striking her. He claimed to be a miner by trade but admitted that he had done little work for the past seven years except occasional jobs in gambling houses.

The city attorney tangled Ford up badly in cross-examination and there was little doubt in the minds of the court or spectators but that he was guilty in every respect of the crime.

Having successfully landed the fellow in jail for some time, the authorities will proceed at once to prosecute him on the charge of adultery, which if a conviction is obtained, will land him in the penitentiary for from three to ten years. Meanwhile the woman will be detained as the state's witness against him.

W. D. WOODS IS POSITIVELY IDENTIFIED IN OMAHA JAIL.

Spokane, June 1.—W. D. Woods, now in jail at Omaha charged with holding up the Overland limited train, is positively identified from portraits by Officer Chester Edwards as being Dan Downer, a man frequently arrested here. Edwards states that he assisted in arresting Downer and Fred Torgenson at Everett last October and found their caps and a complete safe blower's outfit.

Torgenson is now with Woods in the Omaha jail.

Detective Alex McDonald has left for Omaha where he may complete the identification.

ARRIVE AND BUY A LARGE AUTOMOBILE.

Opening of Headquarters for the Pioneer Fruit Company of Sacramento.

The officers of the Pioneer Fruit company of Sacramento, which is to handle the Utah fruit crop this season, arrived in the city Tuesday preparatory to opening the company of offices at this point.

The party includes Vice-President H. M. Ellis, of Sacramento, and Manager Derrig who will have charge of the local headquarters. The first matter attended to was the purchase of a big automobile for a local company for use in traveling about the fruit district and in attending to the business about town.

Manager Forristall, of the Ogden Fruit Growers' association, in company with Messrs. Ellis and Derrig, left in the newly purchased machine for a three days' trip through the northern fruit section of the state. They will inspect the condition of fruit throughout the Willard, Brigham City, Bear river and Cache valley districts taking careful note of the general outlook, as well as getting acquainted with the principal shippers. Expert W. E. Woods, formerly of the Grand Junction Fruit Growers' association, but now of the Sacramento company, has arrived in the city and will remain here for the fruit season. Mr. Woods was sent to Ogden last year by the Grand Junction people to assist in preparing the local crop for market and his services were of much benefit to the Ogden growers.

NOTHING TO PAY

Hyomei is Guaranteed to Cure Catarrh or Money Back.

When you suffer horribly from catarrh and are constantly sniffing and sneezing, hawking and spitting, and doing other disgusting things, remember there is a certain cure, called Hyomei (pronounced High-o-mei), which is guaranteed to cure.

Hyomei will give joyful relief to any catarrh sufferer in five minutes and it gives remarkable relief to consumptives.

Hyomei is medicated air prepared from the extracts taken from the giant eucalyptus trees of inland Australia, where catarrh or consumption is never known.

You breathe in this healing and antiseptic air through an inhaler and this air, with its peculiar soothing properties, dissolves the inflamed and germ-ridden membrane (for catarrh is a germ disease), kills the germ, allays the inflammation, and in a short time completely cures the disease.

A complete Hyomei outfit, which includes a hard rubber inhaler that will last a life time, and a bottle of Hyomei, costs only $1.00, extra bottles cost 50 cents. Sold by leading druggists everywhere and in Ogden by S. W. Balcon, who guarantees it on the money back plan.

FINGERS ARE CUT OFF IN THE YARDS

T. D. FENTON THROWN UNDER A MOVING CAR.

Hands Were on the Rail and the Wheels Rolled Over Them, Crushing the Fingers.

T. D. Fenton, employed as a night switchman in the Southern Pacific yards in this city, met with a shocking accident last night in which it is feared he lost all of the fingers on both of his hands. The unfortunate man was riding the side of a car on the spur track leading to Jones' coal yard north of the viaduct and between Wall avenue and the railroad yards, when he was struck by a coal shed and knocked from his position and under the moving car. Before he could struggle to his feet from the dangerous position, and while his hands were on the track, the wheels of the heavily loaded car passed over them, partially amputating eight fingers and only leaving the thumbs.

Fenton coolly picked up his lantern, advised his working companions of what had occurred, and walked down to the depot master's office where Sam Fowler and other railroad employees rendered such assistance as was needed and telephoned for the Ogden hospital ambulance. A little later several of the fingers were amputated by surgeons and an effort is being made by the latter to save one or two digits on either hand.

Mr. Fenton is an old-time railroad man and resides with his family at 529 Thirtieth street. While generally recognized as one of the most competent trainmen or switchmen residing in Ogden, Tim has been in hard luck for the past year or two and accidents have apparently followed closely on his trail. Something over a year ago, while employed as a conductor on the Rio Grande road, he was in a head-on collision at Jordan Narrows and two or three men were killed or injured.

A little later he entered the employ of the Bamberger road and while running a work train, left a switch open, and a wreck followed in which a car or two went into the ditch. He lost his position there as a result of the accident and was working extra as a switchman last night when the accident occurred.

Mr. Fenton is well-known and popular among railroad men and others who know him and has the sympathy of all in his terrible accident and trouble.

A REMOVAL.

Yesterday the Ogden Milling & Elevator company removed their office and stock of flour from the old stand which they have occupied for the last eight years in the Opera House block to their new quarters at number 2220 Washington avenue, the change being necessitated because of the proposed remodeling of the Opera House building.

The old and well established Riverside and Phoenix Roller Mills produce the Ogden Milling & Elevator company's flour. This pioneer company was organized way back in 1889, though the Riverside mill was built far back of that date and was owned and operated by President John Taylor while the Phoenix mill was built on the old mill site owned by D. H. Peery after a fire had destroyed the first mill, from which fact it received its present name, the "Phoenix."

The Ogden Milling & Elevator Co. will continue to extend the same courteous treatment to its old-time customers as well as to newer patrons as has marked their business methods for so many years. They are in position to fill all the wants and requirements of the trade and cordially invite friends and patrons to visit their new quarters at No. 2220 Wash. Ave.

A deferred meeting of the city council was held last evening, several important matters being considered. Of especial interest was the matter of improvements proposed for Twenty-fourth street between Washington and Adams avenues.

President J. C. Nye and Secretary J. S. Lewis of the Ogden Civic League presented the proposition which provides for the laying out of a parkway in the center of the street. After some discussion, authorization of the improvement was made on motion of Councilman Dickson. According to the specifications, the parked space is to be 16 feet in width and raised above the surface of the street to the regulation height of the curbing.

The parking will be practically in four separate sections. No. 1 and No. 3 will be about 115 feet in length and will extend from the Twenty-fourth street intersections of Adams and Washington avenues.
